If reproductions are sent by email, the process will occur through gigamail. This means that the applicant will find a link in his/her email from where he/she will be able to download the files. These will be available there for three days. Do not reply to this email (it is a fixed text used to inform applicants that their reproductions are available). Emails sent to that address will not receive a reply.

For any type of information please write to firenze@gaponline.it specifying the number of the pro-forma invoice.

Reproductions are sent for study purposes. In case the applicant intends to publish the reproduction/reproductions, he/she must ask permission from the Library and specify the author, the title of the publication (book, article), the number of copies printed and the price printed on the book cover. The Library will keep the original of the reproduction/reproductions required. Reproductions published in scientific journals or books published in less than 2,000 copies and costing less than Euro 77,47 (both conditions must be respected) do not pay royalties, although permission for publication must always be requested from the Library.
